The prize has been running for more than a decade and in that time some of the Reds' biggest names have been recognized for their stellar efforts including Cristiano Ronaldo, Wayne Rooney and Robin van Persie. Rooney claimed the award on three separate occasions, including in 2011 for his overhead kick against Manchester City, who later won a poll as the club's Goal of the Decade. Cristiano Ronaldo also completed an awards tremor, with two of his strikes to face off against Portsmouth. No other player has emerged victorious more than once, although current players Juan Mata, Anthony Martial, Nemanja Matic and Andreas all still have the chance to add to their time. Marcus Rashford is the current holder of the award. The Academy graduate was the overwhelming winner of a poll on our Official App, with fans polling in their droves for his spectacular free-kick against Chelsea in the Carabao Cup.
